

PRE-CONFERENCE ACTIVITY

MIDDLE ATLANTIC PLANETARIUM SOCIETY

25-28 MAY 2005

HOSTED BY THE FELS PLANETARIUM
FRANKLIN INSTITUTE SCIENCE MUSEUM

We have a great opportunity available for you before the conference. Spitz, Inc. of Chadds Ford, PA offers a visit to one of their premiere installations at Rowan University Planetarium in nearby Glassboro, NJ. Unfortunately, at this time, we are unable to provide transportation. Please indicate your interest on these forms, and also note whether or not you would be able to provide transportation for another member who would be interested in attending. We will be glad to help arrange carpools to these events.

Pre-Visit Tour: Rowan University Planetarium

Spitz and Rowan University invite MAPS delegates to visit Glassboro, NJ for a tour of the Edelman Planetarium on Wednesday. The new planetarium opened in 2004. Their 40-foot dome contains a Spitz 1024 starball, LFI laser system and LED Cove lighting. Take a behind the scenes tour and enjoy the new facility from 1:00 PM to 4:00 PM, May 25th. Snacks will be served throughout the afternoon. Spitz will demo the new high-brightness SciDome 3000 lumen fulldome system and other planetarium capabilities.

Please indicate your planned participation in the described activity in the spaces below and send in with your registration materials:
